132 Kings Road, Russell Island

Private Waterview Block

Sitting on the very end of Kings Road is this really very nice vacant allotment. with no chance of losing the views to the mainland. This block also has the added value of filtered water views through the Gum Tress at the rear of the block.

At 615m2, it's an excellent size allotment, with a good flat building pad that rolls over the bank down towards the mangroves.

A double Story home will give excellent water and mainland views from the top floor, with stunning sunsets thrown in for free. On the right hand side and at the rear of the allotment is conservation land that will never be built on.
